

Erica Toliver

From Politics to public relations, Erica is bringing people together for a good cause. Erica grew-up in Clinton, MD, and after graduating from American University, stayed in DC and now lives in the historic Anacostia area of Southeast Washington, DC. She is owner to a 4 lb. Yorkshire Terrier named Rocket, who is just as sassy as she. Her career has spanned from a boutique marketing firm to the media conglomerate Discovery Communications. For a short period of time she served youth as a substitute teacher, where she discovered her passion for connecting people and to put the public back in public relations. Erica currently works for the DC Children and Youth Investment Trust Corporation as the Liaison to Executive Affairs and Public Relations. When she's not rubbing elbows with the political elite of DC government, she's in the trenches with DC's community based organizations promoting and raising money for afterschool programs. Erica is compassionate about her charitable service as she also is a member of the "Feed Homeless" ministry at her church, First Baptist Church of Glenarden. Erica has a love for travel and has traveled the world from Amsterdam to Aruba, Fort Lauderdale to London, Cancun to Cape Town, South Africa. She's a lover of sports, shopping and sweat, as she works out 4 times a week.
